

Project: sShop Website.

ASC is one of the top companies in the world about fashion. They want to build a website so they can sell their product online.

The website shows the list of fashion products with categories. Users can filter the products by category and brand.

Users can choose products to view product detail, image, price, size...and can add to cart if they want to buy the products.

Users can manage their cart by viewing their cart and adding, removing the products they do not want to buy anymore.

Some products can have discounts, and discounts can be linked to carts, and the price will be recalculated.

When a user submits an order, there will be a confirmation email, to confirm the order.

Having a login function for Admin users to manage products.

The high season, the increase of accessing the website, the website can handle the increase.

The website is always up to handle user requests.
